

A Memoir of the Rev. John Edwards Emerson: First Pastor of the Whitefield Congregational Church in Newburyfort, Mass., With Extracts From His Writings (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from A Memoir of the Rev. John Edwards Emerson: First Pastor of the Whitefield Congregational Church in Newburyfort, Mass., With Extracts From His Writings This memoir has been abridged with the desire of rendering it more acceptable to the general reader, and with the hope that its usefulness may be increased. Mankind are influenced more by example than precept; a life has more power than a principle. Men, before adopting a truth or system, desire to see its workings upon character, as well as listen to arguments in its favor. It is well, therefore, that a new living testimony to the practical power of Christianity should be perpetuated. Who, comparatively speaking, would have heard of James B. Taylor, Harlan Page, James Brainerd, and others that might be mentioned, had not their memoirs been published to the world? These holy men died in order to live. They, most of them, died young, in order that their influence might possess immortal youth. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
