

Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel

Vallabhbhai had an interest in English language. Among his several wishes one of them was his carving of going to England. He wanted to learn English because it was the language of both business and government work. He wanted to go to England because after going there he wanted to see that what specialty did it held through which it had spread its empire so vast that there was no sunset in their empire. Apart from this his ambition of having higher education also would had been fulfilled only after going to England. His dream of going to England was very far but the dream of learning English language was just 7 miles away from his village Karmasad. English language was taught very nicely in village Petlad. He made up his mind for going there and at the same time convinced six other friends of his to go along with him. Other reason for Patel to leave Karasmad was that in his village school he had a conflict with one more teacher. Due to such nagging his studies were also being badly affected, with such situations he was very much upset.
